Pecans are a Superfood

- The American Heart Association (AHA) has added Georgia Pecans to its list of certified heart-healthy foods.
- Research has shown that eating a handful of pecans each day may be as effective at lowering LDL ("bad" cholesterol) as some prescription medications.

- The FDA released a statement noting that a diet consisting of 1.5 ounces of nuts per day, such as pecans, may reduce the risk of heart disease.
- Unsaturated fats, like those in pecans, have been shown to lower total blood cholesterol and preserve HDL ("good" cholesterol) to help fight heart disease.

- Pecans are the most antioxidant rich tree nut and are among the top 15 foods to contain the highest antioxidant capacity.
- Antioxidants are powerful nutrients that slow the aging process and reduce the risk of cancer, heart disease, diabetes and Alzheimer's.
